RE: 100-Year Service Life Certification for CIP Liner

Dear Mr. Casten,

We appreciate the opportunity to provide you with a 100-year service life certification for the CIP Liner as manufactured by CIP Industries.

Based on the information provided to me in the 100-year service life certification report and the supporting documentation the CIP Liner will remain in service and perform as intended for a minimum of 100 years.

The 100-year service life certification is based on the following:

1. The CIP Liner is manufactured in accordance with CIP Industries specifications and quality control program
2. The CIP Liner design is in accordance with industry standards
3. The CIP Liner resin is resistant in the environment in which it is installed
4. The CIP Liner is installed by Infrastructure Rehab USA in strict accordance with CIP Industries installation specifications
5. Adherence to the QA/QC and testing protocols for the installation and finished CIP Liner

If the above items are utilized and the design and installation are customized to the actual field conditions the CIP Liner will add significant structural integrity, prevent further deterioration and eliminate inflow and infiltration while achieving a 100-year service life under normal conditions.

Regards,

Tim Back, P.E.
